Some therapies offered at Lifestyle Physicians—including IV nutrition, ozone therapy, and other regenerative or wellness modalities—are considered complementary and have not been evaluated or approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. These services are provided as adjunctive wellness options and are not intended to replace standard medical care.

Prescription medications such as Wegovy® and similar therapies are provided in accordance with FDA guidelines for eligible patients after medical evaluation. All medication use follows current prescribing information and supervision by a licensed clinician.

Lifestyle Physicians operates as a licensed medical practice under U.S. law. We do not promote or sell controlled substances online and do not claim curative outcomes for any therapy.
